A hand-drawn diagram of a diamond-shaped object, possibly a piece of skin or a leaf, oriented vertically. The object has a thick, dark central vertical line. Two arrows point to the left and right sides of the diamond, each labeled "SKin". Three other arrows point to specific locations: one at the top left labeled "910", one at the top right labeled "920", and one at the bottom left labeled "912". In the top right corner, there is handwritten text: "AKC-22900" and "11 of 17".
